PHOTOGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE MEMORANDUM

GENETRIX PHOTOGRAPHY

This memorandum summarizes aerial photograph's coverage as a result of Project GENETRIX. It is intended to acquaint CIA personnel, on a need-to-know basis, of the extent of the coverage and to serve as a guide for requirements which CIA components may wish to levy on the Photographic Intelligence Division, Office of Research and Reports.

The memorandum consists of two parts:

1. A list of localities, arranged by Mission Numbers and countries, summarized from initial reports received. These represent selections made in the field of noteworthy localities along the flight strips of photography made good and were not intended to meet all requirements. For those listed localities marked by an asterisk, photographs are at hand in RR/GP; for those not so marked, photographs will be received shortly.

2. An overlay to The National Geographic Society Map, "Asia and Adjacent Area", Scale: 1:15,000,000, March 1951. This overlay indicates photography made good, by mission numbers. Photography (contact prints) already at hand are indicated, others are being received, and the remainder are subject to order on a priority basis. In addition to the contact prints, work-copies of stapled mosaics of the photography made good reduced one-third from the
